

GENERAL WHEATON RETURNS TO IMUS

Withdraw Today From Perez Dasmariñas.

AMERICANS HAVE TAKEN MANY PRISONERS.

Number of Captured Soldiers in White Costumes and Amigos Articho, a Rival of Aguinaldo, Who Had Been Imprisoned, Were Discovered.—Philadelphia Times Prints a Special Showing That Gen. Miles Will Receive Command of a Force in Philippines.—In All Probability Will Start For Manila Within a Week.

Manila, June 21.—[Special].—Gen. Wheaton today withdrew from Perez Dasmariñas and returned to Imus. The Americans have many prisoners taken in the fighting the last few days. A number of captured soldiers dressed in white costumes and Amigos Articho, a rival of Gen. Aguinaldo who had been in prison a year, were discovered at Dasmariñas.

Gen. Miles to Command Philadelphia, June 21.—[Special].—The Times today prints a special from Atlantic City, N. J., showing that Gen. Miles will receive command of the American forces in the Philippines and in all probability will start for Manila within a week.

Washington, June 21.—[Special].—Assistant Secretary of War Meiklejohn said this morning that as far as he knew, the question of assigning General Miles to the command of troops in the Philippines had not been discussed.

Manila, June 21.—Gen. Wheaton entered Perez das Marinas yesterday. He encountered no serious opposition. A small band of insurgents fired at the Americans as they approached the village and then fled. Owing to the unhealthy location of the town Gen. Wheaton may not leave a garrison there.

Two batteries of heavy artillery have been sent to Gen. MacArthur's command, which is stationed north of Manila. A heavy battery was also sent to Gen. Wheaton's command in Cavite province.

The more thoroughly all the facts regarding Monday's battle near Perez das Marinas are investigated the more clear is it that Gen. Wheaton saved the first battalion of the Fourth infantry from a great disaster by his timely arrival on the scene with reinforcements. Two miles from the village, on the Imus road, the battalion fought 2,000 insurgents until its ammunition was almost exhausted. It had its ambulance full of wounded and was compelled to abandon two of its dead, which, when recovered later in the afternoon, were found to have been horribly mutilated.

As Major Bubb marched toward Perez das Marinas in the morning the houses along the six miles of road which was traversed without a hostile demonstration, were covered with white flags and tokens of friendship were displayed by the people in the houses. When the troops arrived at the sunken road, Major Shields, the regimental surgeon, discovered that a large body of armed insurgents was marching in a parallel column 300 yards to the right of the Americans, and had evidently been following the column for some distance, keeping their relative position to the American advance by the aid of barking dogs and other noises accompanying the passage of so large a body of men. They also had four flankers on either side of the advance guard of the Americans.

When these ominous facts were reported to Major Bubb, commanding the Fourth infantry, who accompanied the battalion, his command was deployed to the right under cover of an irrigation dike, which paralleled the sunken road. These arrangements were scarcely completed when the firing began heavily on both sides and, after a number of steady volleys from the First-battalion the enemy's fire was silenced, whereupon Major Bubb gave the order to withdraw in the direction of Imus.

For ten minutes after the movement began there was no firing, but as soon as the insurgents realized that the Americans were withdrawing they formed again down the road which the Fourth infantry had to pass and on the left flank and renewed the attack. The movement of the troops was very slow, and every step had to be contested with the enemy. The 2,000 insurgents were making a supreme effort to destroy the Americans, and were sending in a galling fire from all directions. Lieut. Kohler's one field gun was used with telling effect on the enemy, and assisted materially in opening a path for the harassed battalion. Company B was cut off at one time from the rest of the force, and was compelled to charge twice over an open, fire-swept field to regain its place on the left of the advancing column. An ambulance containing the dead and wounded was under fire continually, and as the supply of ammunition became nearly exhausted the condition of the Americans was desperate. Lieut. Wolf, with his men, was sent to the left flank, and there fought with great heroism. Four hours of this kind of fighting had taken the battalion only three miles in its retreat; then it made a stand to collect and care for the wounded.

At that time Lieut. Hazlett, an aid of Gen. Wheaton, and Lieut. Cunningham of the signal corps galloped up on the Imus road, bringing word that reinforcements were on the way. Hearty American cheers greeted this welcome news. The Filipinos answered with a heavier fire, their bullets sweeping the road with fearful effect.

Throughout the action the conduct of the men was magnificent, though at times it seemed as if they could expect nothing except destruction. The officers remained cool, riding along the road and giving their orders with a calmness which added much to the confidence of the men. The enemy, at the end of the engagement, was driven in confusion off the field and was followed within two miles of Perez das Marinas, when darkness put an end to the engagement. The American loss was four killed and twenty wounded. Ninety-three dead Filipinos were recovered from a part of the battlefield, and many more doubtless were slain during the battle.

Washington, June 21.—Gen. Otis forwards the following: "Manila, June 20.—Adjutant General, Washington: Wheaton at Imus, Cavite province, with four guns, four battalions Fourth and Fourteenth infantry, Nevada troop cavalry. Sent battalion south on reconnaissance, direction of Das Marinas, yesterday morning, where army was reported concentrating scattered forces. Battalion encountered enemy's force, 2,000, marching to attack Imus; successful in impeding its progress. Wheaton with two guns and two battalions hurried forward; repulsed enemy with heavy loss, enemy leaving over 100 dead on the field; our loss, five killed, twenty-three wounded. Wheaton reinforced last night by battalion Ninth infantry; is driving enemy beyond Marinas, now in his possession. Casualties today not reported. Wheaton's qualities for bold and successful attack unsurpassed. OTIS."

NEW REGIMENTS TO BE RECRUITED

Col. Durbin Takes Steps to Place His Command in Service. Indianapolis, Ind., June 21.—W. T. Durbin, colonel of the One Hundred and Sixty-first Indiana regiment, returned Tuesday from Washington, where he went to consult the president about taking his regiment—recently mustered out of the volunteer service—to the Philippines. He says he has been assured by Adj. Gen. Corbin that every request of Gen. Otis has been granted as to furnishing him with a sufficient number of men. Notwithstanding this fact, he said, there seemed to be a sentiment among federal authorities that might lead to the recruiting of several regiments in the United States which would be sent to Gen. Otis. Three regiments, Col. Durbin says, will certainly be recruited, but for the first three Gen. Otis will be allowed to select officers who are now in the Philippine service. After that officers will be selected by presidential appointment.

Col. Durbin says the war department will not ask for volunteers by states. The president will appoint all the regimental officers. No regiment will be taken as a whole, as that would necessitate taking officers. Companies will not be taken as companies, but 100 men may be taken at one time. This plan is already on foot, Col. Durbin says, and the formation of further plans in this direction is hastened by a prevailing sentiment in favor of crushing the Filipinos at once.

First Nebraska to Sail.

Lincoln, Neb., June 21.—Col. Mulford cabled Gov. Poynter that the war-worn First Nebraska regiment would sail from Manila Thursday. This will land the troops in Nebraska in about five weeks. Great receptions are being planned at Lincoln and Omaha in connection with Grand Army reunions. The regiment has participated in twenty-seven engagements inside of ten days and has lost 180 men killed in action or died of wounds or disease. The latest report gave 281 men, or about 50 per cent, and only nineteen officers out of forty-five able to be on duty.

Nebraska Regiment May Be Called.

Lincoln, Neb., June 21.—Col. Victor Vifquain of the recently mustered out Third Nebraska is hopeful that the regiment, whose services he has twice tendered to the president, may be called upon to go to the Philippines. Col. Vifquain says his offer was made advisedly, with the consent of the officers and men of the Third.

SCHRADER EXPLAINS MATTERS

Says That Gazette Readers Have a Wrong Idea of Him

Paul Schrader of Milton sends the Gazette the following: Editor Gazette:—To the many inquiring friends who have read in The Gazette in regard to the scheme Munkle planned to get $500 out of me I will say that I am sixty-two years old and have never done anything to be ashamed of or to cause a warrant to be served on me nor have I done anything but what I would do again under the same circumstances. The girl Munkle claims to be his daughter is not his daughter and she don't want to see him for she is afraid of him he has abused her so. He has always taken her wages, but he cannot get them now and that is the reason why he got angry and made such a fuss and got out a warrant of assault and battery for me. PAUL SCHRADER.

Holland's young queen has a decided fondness for pretty clothes. A large assortment of dress goods was sent to the palace the other day and her mother proceeded to choose for the queen some alpaca and plain material, but Wilhelmina flatly refused to abide by the selection and chose figured silks and brilliant dress materials even for morning wear. She said that her loving parent might make use of the plain stuff if she liked them, but she wanted something prettier.

FORMER JANESVILLE BOY WRITES OF WEST

INTERESTING LETTER FROM JAMES KAYLER.

Now Located on the Nez Perces Indian Reservation Near Peck, Idaho.—Brief Sketch of the Country and its Resources.—Experiencing a Boom—Progressive Strides.

The Gazette is in receipt of the following interesting letter from James Kayler, a former Janesville boy and son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kayler, of this city, now located near Peck, Idaho:—

Peck, Idaho, June 11, '99.—Editor Gazette.—I received The Gazette and was pleased to receive a Janesville paper, and thinking some of your readers might like to know something of this country, will write of it through your columns.

I am located on the Nez Perces Indian Reservation, which was thrown open to the public three years ago. It is one hundred miles south of Spokane, Washington, and thirty-five miles east of Lewiston, Idaho, on the western slope of the Bitter Root Mountains, a vast prairie intersected by deep canyons, well timbered, with plenty of water. The country is being developed very fast the land being all taken up, with the exceptions of a few scattering forties which are too rough to work and can only be reached by pack horses. I have a quarter section of land three-quarters of a mile from the town of Peck, on the Clearwater river.

A year ago it was twenty-five miles to the nearest railroad and the town consisted of a postoffice, blacksmith shop and school. Now the Northern Pacific railroad company are laying their track and will be running in here by the first of July and the O. R. and N. have purchased the right of way and expect to be here by fall. This naturally tends to boom the town, and we now have four large general stores, drug store, hotel, restaurant, grist mill, postoffice, three warehouses, shingle mill, two saw mills, a church, good school and livery stable, and the place is still booming.

Anticipate Wonderful Growth.
The principal means of transportation now is by boat, which makes daily trips up the river from Lewiston. The people anticipate a period of remarkable growth, one of the reasons is that a great deal of the contemplated railroad constructions in the northwest is directed toward Idaho, it being estimated that four hundred miles of railroad will be built in this state within the next year. Much is also expected from the incoming immigration and the development of the mineral resources. There are a great many people coming here from Iowa and Wisconsin.

One great attraction is the fine climate: the coldest it got here last winter was fourteen below, and that for one night only, and the oldest inhabitants say it was the coldest winter since the reservation opened. Stock live on the ranges the year round.

This country is fast gaining a reputation for its fine fruits, peaches, pears, grapes, plums, prunes, cherries, apricots and apples being extensively raised. Fruit growing on the reservation is still in its infancy, but promises well, as does the country surrounding it. Wheat and flax are the principal product. All garden produce as well as poultry and eggs always demand a good price on account of the nearness of the mines. Irrigation is not necessary.

An Abundance of Game.
Salmon abound in the Clearwater river, and trout in the smaller streams. The near mountains furnish sport for hunters, deer, elk and bear being quite numerous. The Nez Perces Indians, of whom there are a number here, each have an allotment of land; some of them have good improvements on their places, and build nice houses, furnish them comfortably, eat off the floor, and sleep in a teepee out of doors.

There is a large Indian school at Lapwai and a number of the tribe are well educated, there being several Indian ministers among them. At the Presbyterian conference held at Moscow recently, there were several of these ministers present and all seemed very much interested and anxious to learn how their white brothers conducted religious services. The better educated wear citizens clothes, but their colored features remain the same. The liquor law is very strict and anyone found on the reservation with liquor on their person are given no chance to explain why it is there, but are immediately arrested and imprisoned, but nevertheless they will sometimes get hold of the stuff that makes a bad Indian out of a good one. They have one grand yearly celebration, that being the Fourth of July. For about thirty days before the Fourth they commence to gather at Lapwai, where the celebration is held, to get ready for what they call a "high time." The principal feature of the day is horse-racing. They bat all they have and many of them go home minus cayuses, (ponies) saddles and blankets. One can get a saddle pony from four bits (50 cents) up to twenty-five dollars.

Hoping I have not taken too much of your space, will close by saying I like it here very much and it is my intention to make this our future home.
JAMES KAYLER.

INCENDIARIES ARE AT WORK

Two More Attempts to Destroy Property of Alfred McDougall.

Two more attempts were made to fire the residence of Alfred McDougall, 102 Pleasant street, corner of South Franklin.

It is quite evident that some unscrupulous party or parties have a grudge against Mr. McDougall, although he is at a loss to know what the motive is, and not having an enemy in the world that he knows of, is at more of a loss to imagine where to place the blame. Shortly before 12 o'clock last night Thomas Siegel turned in an alarm from the west side fire station, calling the department to the residence of Mr. McDougall. The fire was confined to the woodshed, which is directly back of the house.

There was an odor of kerosene about the premises and other suspicions that the fire was the work of incendiaries. At 3:30 o'clock Night Watchman Smith saw that the same building was again on fire and turned in an alarm, as did also Mr. McDougall. The building was filled with wood and was nearly destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Carter, who reside on Pleasant street, between 11 and 12 o'clock observed two men jump over the fence by the Baptist church and Mrs. Carter remarked to her husband that something was up.

The residence was considerably scorched as was F. M. Hibbard's corn shed.

LAST EVENING IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

ICE CREAM SERVED BY YOUNG LADIES' SODALITY.

Liberal Patronage in Spite of the Cold Wave—Sinnissippi Golf Club Picnicked in Afternoon and Danced in the Evening—Good Templars Enjoy Moonlight Ride.

The Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Mary's church gave an ice cream social on the lawn in the rear of the church last evening and in spite of the cold wave, the efforts of the young ladies proved not only a social but financial success. The pretty lawn was thronged with people until the hour of 10 o'clock, to that extent that the accommodations were inadequate to meet the demands, which were not at all urgent and all waited patiently for their frozen sweetmeats. The lawn was radiantly illuminated and aside from the moonbeams there were numerous Japanese lanterns and locomotive headlights. The young ladies were wise enough to profit by past experience and had prepared hot coffee. As a result of the efforts of the ladies who so successfully managed the affair, the exchequer of the society was replenished to the amount of $50.

Golfers Enjoy Picnic

The members of the Sinnissippi Golf club enjoyed a picnic at their grounds northeast of the city yesterday afternoon and the affair proved one of the most enjoyable given for many a day. The enthusiasts passed the afternoon in playing golf. At 7 o'clock a most inviting picnic supper was spread in the basement of the club house, to which all did ample justice. Soon after the appetites of all had been appeased, the merry party indulged in tripping the light fantastic. Jack Tuckwood at the violin and Roy Carter at the piano furnished the inspiration. The company was delighted with vocal and instrumental selections by Arthur Rancous, of Evanston, Ill., who is visiting in the city. He sang "Life's Lullaby" and two amusing coon songs.

The affair was a brilliant success and one that will long be remembered by the participants.

Enjoy Excursion

Under the auspices of People's Lodge No. 460, Independent Order Good Templars, a moonlight excursion was given up the river last evening on the steamer Mayflower. Many took advantage of the beautiful evening and enjoyed a few hours immensely.

CYCLONE NEAR MARION, IND.

Factories Wrecked and Houses Unroofed by Force of the Wind.

Marion, Ind., June 21.—The worst cyclone and hail storm that ever visited this locality passed over here Tuesday evening about 4 o'clock. The towns of Jonesboro and Gas City were in the track of the storm. In Jonesboro a number of residences were wrecked and business blocks unroofed and demolished.

In Gas City the United States glass factory, that covers four acres of ground, was unroofed, and the immense brick smokestacks blown down and the pot are crushed in. The Sheldon-Foster flint glass factory was unroofed and damaged $3,000. A part of the large tin-plate factory was destroyed. The Big Four window-glass factory was unroofed and damaged $2,000, and boilers. The Fairmount zinc smelter works was damaged. A large heavy barn was blown down and a number of horses killed and several men badly injured.

Hallstones the size of cherries and hulled walnuts fell for ten minutes and cut down the wheat, corn and other crops. There is not a vestige of growing grain or fruit in the path of the hail. A large amount of stock and poultry was killed and a number of people seriously injured, but no fatalities reported. All the wires are down.

Abduction of a Wealthy Man.

Detroit, Mich., June 21.—Moses Fowler-Chase, aged 21, alleged mentally incompetent, and reputed to be worth $600,000, was abducted from the Hotel Cadillac last Sunday night. He had been a patient at a sanitarium in Flint, and was en route to his home in Lafayette, Ind., accompanied by his father, Frederick Chase, a lawyer. The aunt of the young man is accused of the crime. The police of New York, Boston, Portland and Montreal have been notified to be on the watch for the party.

Michigan G. A. R. in Session.

Petoskey, Mich., June 21.—The twenty-first annual encampment, department of Michigan, G. A. R., began its session in this city Tuesday. Some of the men most prominent in G. A. R. circles in this country are to be here, among them Gen. Joseph Wheeler, Gen. Francis Armstrong, Gen. Henry M. Duffield and Secretary of War Alger. Every train and boat brings crowds of old soldiers with their families and friends.

Noted Bandit Is Convicted.

Hartsville, Mo., June 21.—John Kennedy, the noted Cracker Neck bandit, who is supposed to have been the leader of a band of outlaws which long terrorized Missouri, was found guilty of having participated in the robbery of an express train on the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis road at Macomb, Mo., Jan. 3, and sentenced to seventeen years in the penitentiary.

Will Pay No Indemnity.

Washington, June 21.—This government, it is said by an administration official, feels that Admiral Kantz, in endeavoring to establish peace and order in Samoa, acted in accordance with recognized provisions of international law and the Berlin treaty, and it will most certainly reject any claims that may be filed against it by the German foreign office.

Colonies Favor Federation.

London, June 21.—The secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, in the house of commons Tuesday, announced amid cheers that New South Wales had voted in favor of federation by a large majority.

Were Not the Train Robbers.

Cheyenne, Wyo., June 21.—The three men arrested near Yellowstone park on suspicion of being the Union Pacific train robbers have been released. An investigation showed they were not the men wanted.

Alger Story Revived.

New York, June 21.—The Journal's Washington correspondent revives the story that Secretary Alger is to be succeeded by Ambassador Porter, who will be succeeded at Paris by Whitelaw Reid.

How He Pronounced Egypt.

A member of the school board in a western village was visiting the school one day, and the teacher politely invited him to question the pupils. "I reckon I'll try ye on spellin'," said the man. "John, spell egg-wiped." But John failed, and so did all the others. Great was the astonishment of the scholars and the amusement of the teacher when the committee man spelled the word himself—E-g-g-y-p-t.

THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

THE OLD WAY

Of Treating Dyspepsia and Indigestion by Dieting a Dangerous and Useless One.

We say the old way, but really it is a very common one at the present time and many dyspeptics and physicians as well consider the first step to take in attempting to cure indigestion is to diet, either by selecting certain foods and rejecting others or to greatly diminish the quantity usually taken, in other words the starvation plan is supposed by many to be the first essential.

The almost certain failure of the starvation cure has been proven time and again, but still the moment dyspepsia makes its appearance a course of dieting is at once advised.

All this is radically wrong. It is foolish and unscientific to recommend dieting to a man suffering from dyspepsia, because indigestion itself starves every organ, every nerve and every fibre in the body.

What the dyspeptic wants is abundant nutrition, which means plenty of good, wholesome, well cooked food, and something to assist the weak stomach to digest it. This is exactly the purpose for which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted and this is the method by which they cure the worst cases of dyspepsia, in other words the patient eats plenty of wholesome food and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest it for him. In this way the system is nourished and the overworked stomach rested, because the tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not. One of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of meat or eggs.

Your druggist will tell you that Stuart's Tablets is the purest and safest remedy for stomach troubles and every trial makes one more friend for this excellent preparation. Sold at 50 cents for full sized package at all drug stores.

A little book on cause and cure of stomach diseases mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

A. O. U. W. Will Incorporate.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 21.—The supreme lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, after a discussion lasting over two days, decided to incorporate.

Maple City Self-Washing Soap not only saves the wear on your clothes because less rubbing is required, but it saves fully half the labor.

Curious Umbrellas.

Many curious umbrellas are made. One seen can be taken apart and put in one's pocket. The stick is of wood about an inch in diameter. The cover can be turned inside out and folded into a small bundle. By touching a spring the ribs come off, straighten out and may be placed in the hollow of the stick, which is then a presentable walking stick, says The Woman's Home Companion. It is found very convenient by its owner, who is a drummer.

I was seriously afflicted with a cough for several years, and last year had a more severe cough than ever before. I have used many remedies without receiving much relief, and being recommended to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by a friend, who, knowing me to be a poor widow, gave it to me, I tried it, and with the most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved me very much and the second bottle has absolutely cured me. I have not had as good health for twenty years. Respectfully, Mrs. Mary A. Beard, Claremore, Ok. Sold by People's Drug Co.

Just the Thing.

The Merchants' Association of San Francisco, says the Popular Science Monthly, has been trying the experiment of sprinkling a street with sea water, and finds that such water binds the dirt together between the paving stones, so that when it is dry no loose dust is formed to be raised by the wind; that sea water does not dry so quickly as fresh water, so that it has been claimed when salt water has been used that one load of it is equal to three loads of fresh water. The salt water which is deposited on the street absorbs moisture from the air during the night, whereby the street is thoroughly moist during the early morning and has the appearance of having been freshly sprinkled.

Plans Napoleonic.

An erratic French scribbler comes out in the Revue Des Deux Mondes with a new scheme to take Westminster Abbey. It is no less than a project to embark some 500,000 men in jolly boats and hurl them across the channel in a body. Torpedo boats having cleared the way, winds and weather being propitious, and no stupid Albion on hand to repel, it is believed that the thing might have chances of success. Quick firing guns are to be the only artillery besides the torpedo tubes. Just what the Channel squadron of the British navy would do is not said.

Gardening Unhealthy.

Gardening is generally considered one of the healthiest of occupations, but the German Gardeners' Association has issued a warning to those who intend entering the industry. They cite the fact that during the years 1889 to 1897 of the 291 members of the association who died in Germany no fewer than 142 succumbed to consumption and other affections of the lungs.

A Squirrel in Amber.

Flies are not the only things found in amber. In a big mass of clear amber, dredged up out of the Baltic Sea recently, there was distinctly visible in its interior a small squirrel—fur, teeth and claws intact.

Distinguished Wheelmen.

At least one-third of the members of the P. A. B. Parliament are cyclists.

Mr. P. Betcham, of Pike City, Cal., says: "During my brother's late sickness from sciatic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Pain Balm was the only remedy that gave him any relief." Many others have testified to the prompt relief from pain which this liniment affords. For sale by People's Drug Co., corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

Bad management keeps more people in poor circumstances than any other one cause. To be successful one must look ahead and plan ahead so that when a favorable opportunity presents itself he is ready to take advantage of it. A little forethought will also save much expense and valuable time. A prudent and careful man will keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house, the shiftless fellow will wait until necessity compels it and then ruin his best horse going for a doctor and have a big doctor bill to pay, besides; one pays out 25 cents, the other is out a hundred dollars and then wonders why his neighbor is getting richer while he is getting poorer. For sale by People's Drug Co., Cor. Main and Milwaukee streets.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1631—Captain John Smith, founder of Virginia settlement, died in London; born 1579. Captain Smith's romantic adventures were confined to the Pocahontas episode. In early life he won a patent of nobility in England, but in 1607 he was captured in battle and sent as a slave to Constantinople. Often he won the affection of his mistress, was maltreated by her brother, a pasha, whom Smith killed, then fled the country, dressed in the dead man's clothes. On arriving in America Smith was excluded from Jamestown by jealousy, but finally triumphed and became the real head of the Virginia colony. While out on a foraging expedition gathering Indian maize to keep the colonists from starving he was captured by the Indians and his life saved by Pocahontas.

1810—Franz Schubert, noted musical composer, born in Vienna of German-Jewish parents; died 1828.

1885—The German emperor laid the cornerstone of the Kaiser Wilhelm (Kiel) canal.

1890—At the launching of the British battleship Albion at Blackhall, on the Thames, 50 people drowned.

JUSTICE FOR SAMPSON

The so-called "Sampson Schley controversy" has been reopened, and the newspapers are again devoting a good deal of space to it. We can see no reason why it should be called a "controversy," neither can we discover any justification for keeping it alive. As far as Admiral Sampson is concerned, there is no controversy. He made his formal charges against Schley in a formal manner, to the proper authorities. He had formulated his plan of action before Admiral Schley arrived in southern waters. This plan of action was carried out, and the day was won. Schley was a commodore, and under Sampson's orders. He did not carry his orders out as he was expected to do, but luckily his failure to obey did not alter the result. Since making his charges, Admiral Sampson has kept his own counsel and attended to his own business. He has caused no "controversy" but the newspapers have taken up the case, and made much out of little.

Admiral Schley is doubtless willing to admit that he erred in failing to do exactly as he was ordered, but will naturally claim that the failure in no way lessens the amount of credit due him for results attained. But he cannot excuse his action, or deny the fact that his flagship was handled in rather an unseamanlike manner at Santiago, for the Brooklyn escaped collision with the Texas only by a miracle. Schley was in command of the Brooklyn during the engagement, and was responsible for the evolution that endangered the Texas. This fact is shown to be true by the testimony of the officers of both vessels.

Admiral Schley is entitled to much credit, but in giving him his due, it should not be necessary to deprive Admiral Sampson of a single iota of honor. Sampson made the plans and issued in an order the outline of campaign that won the battle. The fact that he was not in the fight makes no difference. The captains all knew what was expected of them, and acted according to the prearranged plan. Schley did not have to issue an order after the fight began—nor did Sampson. If mistakes were made, Schley made them, for the history of the Santiago naval campaign fails to show a single error, of any kind, on Sampson's part.

We have no desire to abridge the debt that the American people owe to Admiral Schley, but we feel that justice is due Admiral Sampson, also. Both had work to do, and both did it. The records show how well each did his duty, and the records alone should be the basis of judgment.

It is with the kindest feelings for Admiral Schley, and with regret that circumstances have made the matter at issue public, that we call the attention of the friends of that officer to the fact that the records show that Sampson made no mistakes whatever, while, on the other hand, they show conclusively that Admiral Schley not only disregarded the orders of his superior at a critical time, but during the battle, handled his ship in such a way as to endanger the lives of the brave men aboard the Texas. When full measure of credit—and full measure of censure as well—is given both of these brave officers, Admiral Schley is placed in the more unfavorable light, and his friends render him no service in keeping the matter before the public.

The dispatches that passed between the two officers at the time that Schley disobeyed orders, have been published, and admit of but one construction. The details of the fight at Santiago have been given by the captains of the various vessels over their own signatures. What happened aboard the Brooklyn has been told by her commander and two subordinate officers. And upon these facts we base our judgment—that Schley's course is open to criticism, while Sampson's is not.

An unusually large number of cattle are affected with tuberculosis these days, and municipal authorities all over the United States are adopting measures to guard against infection. The extent of the prevalence of the disease is shown fairly, in all probability, by a recent experiment made at Chicago. Sixty-seven cows were slaughtered at the stock yards to ascertain the extent to which they were affected by tuberculosis. Only twenty-three passed inspection. The carcasses of the others were destroyed.

The railway companies have troubles of their own, despite the profit in anti-pass regulations. A family comprising seven persons left Scranton the other day, the whole party traveling on one full fare railroad ticket. There were the mother and her three pairs of twins, none of the children being up to the half-fare age of 5 years.

New York dispatches say that Gov. Roosevelt is reported to be committed to the McKinley boom for a second term. It is said the governor will publicly announce the fact within the next two or three weeks. Gov. Roosevelt can command another term as governor of the state, and being a young and active man will be assisted to high honors later on—which means 1904.

Dispatches say that a bacteriological antidote for snake bite has been discovered by Dr. McFarland, of Philadelphia. We had always supposed that the regulation snake bite antidote was the discovery of a Kentuckian.

"I saw you talking with my cousin from Boston," she said. "Don't you think he has a wonderful fund of dry humor?"

"Yes," he replied with some misgivings as to whether the fellow really was her cousin, "he has indeed a fund of dry humor. In fact, it's so dry that it's dusty."—Chicago Daily News.

How to Roast Beef.

Any cook knows that the secret of roasting is the quick coagulation of the surface of the meat, so that all the juices are retained in it. If these juices are allowed to run out in the cooking the virtue is gone from the beef, though the substance of the meat remains. What is called beef extract is not improperly so called. Though it contains little or nothing that will make tissue, it does contain the savor that is not less essential and that has its own place in dietetics, just as the gravy has in many preparations for the table, by means of which this necessary element is restored to the meat. These are simple facts which ought to be generally understood. They explain why many families are ill-nourished through bad cooking and also why "beef tea" is so often disappointing as a nutriment.

FAIR CONDITIONS FOR TOBACCO CROP

GROWERS IN THE MIDST OF TRANSPLANTING.

Exceptionally Large Acreage to Be Set—Twenty-Five Per Cent. Greater Than Last Year—Demand for Packings Unusually Brisk—Handling of Crops Practically Closed.

The tobacco growers of the state are now in the midst of transplanting their fields. By the close of the week more than half the crop will be safely pitched, and so far the conditions have been favorable to a good stand in the fields. There is an abundance of plants, and the prospects are that an extraordinarily large acreage will be set, possibly 25 per cent. greater than a year ago. While the season was backward in starting the plant beds, desirable weather conditions made up for the late start, so that planting began at about the average date, and the entire crop will be out before July 1, which is fully as early as most planting seasons close.

The demand for packings has been unusually brisk of late, and many of the local tobacco men have been able to dispose of their holdings at very satisfactory prices. The ownership of something like 12,000 to 15,000 cases of the '99 crop has been transferred to eastern dealers by local operators the past month.

Aside from a little stemming that is yet going on the handling of the crop at the warehouses has closed for the season.

The shipments out of storage, says the Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter, are not large—not exceeding 500 cases from this market to all points for the past week. One thousand, one hundred and fifty cases of cigar leaf were exported from New York. Joseph Hoffman of New York, and L. W. Scott of Boston, are out-of-town tobacco men in the state during the week.

She came readily, but two days after landing married one of the officers of the ship. The rascal had won her over on the way out. Eighteen months since I sent for my sister to come and be my housekeeper. She came at my expense; but when she arrived I found she was engaged to another of those wretched officers."

A LARGE FACTORY FOR JANESVILLE

Will Automobiles Be Built in This City?

CHICAGO PAPER SAYS THAT THEY WILL.

Times-Herald's Article States That the Plans of The Hartley Power Supply Company Contemplates the Establishing of a Plant in Janesville At a Cost of $125,000—Evidences Are, However, That Some Mistake May Have Been Made.

According to the Chicago-Times Herald, Janesville is to have a big automobile factory. The Times-Herald says: "Carriages and vehicles of nearly every description, driven by compressed air, will be running on the streets of Chicago by next January if the plans of the Hartley Power Supply company are consummated."

It is asserted by those interested in the company that arrangements have practically been completed for erecting a compressed air plant on the west side at a cost of at least $150,000, to establish over fifty air supply stations in the city and maintain them at an annual cost of about $100,000, and to establish a plant for the manufacture of the vehicles at Janesville, Wis., at a cost of $125,000.

The man who is responsible for these statements is Frederick F. Stoll, formerly general superintendent of letter carriers, and who owns 1,000 shares of the company's stock. The company was incorporated in 1895 and capitalized at $1,000,000 and it is claimed that fully this sum in actual cash has been embarked thus far in the enterprise, which the promoters claim is to revolutionize the transportation and carrying trades of the country.

Experimental Under Cover. "Since its organization, with D. B. Hartley, the inventor, as president, the company and its aims have been kept under cover. For several years, Mr. Stoll claims, experiments and tests have been going on in this city and in the east which have fully demonstrated that compressed air when used in connection with the Hartley engines is the best and cheapest motive power yet discovered."

Mr. Stoll returned yesterday from Springfield, where he met representatives of a St. Louis syndicate bearing an offer of $25 a share for the company's 10,000 shares of stock. Last night a meeting of the directors was held, and it was decided unanimously not to consider the offer, but to go ahead and prepare to manufacture at once. It is also stated that the Hartley system has received further recognition by offers from the American Air Power company and from the Leiter syndicate, which have been refused, in the firm belief that the patents controlled by the company are of great value.

Roll these in the beaten egg, then in pulverized macaroni and fry in butter. Serve with parsley.

stands ready to give the new motive power a thorough trial.

For Mail Carriers. "Other tests have been made to demonstrate its feasibility in mail collection service. The carrier for this will weigh 150 pounds, and a man weighing an equal amount has, it is claimed, gone forty miles in eight hours, collecting and taking to the postoffice over 300 pounds of mail. The "air bottle," used for this service contains eight pounds of compressed air and will drive 1,000 pounds weight four hours before another supply is needed. "In small motor carriers the power is ultimately communicated to the wheels by means of a chain and in trucks and carriages by means of shafting. The speed is controlled by a lever with speed meter attachments, and in case of a breakdown foot power can be used in the smaller motors. "The engine used has three pistons working in a headless cylinder, and all are connected with a double crank shaft, the compressed air entering the cylinder at two points."

THOROUGHGOOD BUYS FURNITURE FACTORY

SPRING BROOK BUILDING NOW HIS PROPERTY. Sold By Receiver Jeffris This Morning at the Court House—Factory Will Likely Resume Work at Once With a Large Force—New Concern To Use Plant.

A syndicate of Janesville business men headed by ex-Mayor Thoroughgood, today bought the Hall Furniture company plant in Spring Brook addition at private sale from Receiver Jeffris. It is the intention to bring to Janesville an established business in the furniture line. The firm has been located in another city, and is well known to the furniture trade. It has an established business, and will employ a considerable number of hands. It is also expected that large additions will soon be made to the factory to accommodate their large and increasing business. The factory is a model one throughout, and is equipped with the best machinery. The Janesville Furniture Manufacturing company was incorporated in 1898, with a capital stock of $25,000, with W. T. Van Kirk as president; John Barlass vice president, and O. W. Bemis secretary and treasurer.

Local interested parties deny the report that the factory will be given over to the manufacture of carriages by the Hartley Power Supply company of Chicago, who, it is said, will soon locate a factory here. LOCAL YOUTHS TOO PATRIOTIC A City Ordinance Against Firecrackers—Save Horses. Young America is altogether too early in the display of patriotism, and the eagerness may be the means of getting some of the youngsters in a peck of trouble. Although the day of commemoration of our national independence is two weeks off, the small boy is on pins, and unable to confine his display of patriotism to the day set apart for that glorious occasion. There is a city ordinance against the practice that these youths are engaging in, and unless it is complied with, there is liable to be trouble for them. There have been several instances where horses have been frightened, and damage resulted. The practice is not confined alone to the "small boy," but on the contrary, there are many older chaps indulging in the practice, who in reality are old enough to have better sense.

JUDGE DUNWIDDIE ABSENT

That Was Why Green County Had No Court Yesterday. The Monroe Times of yesterday says: "The June term of the Green county circuit court was duly opened at 11 o'clock this forenoon by Sheriff Gardner, but there was no judge present and without a judge there could be no court. Clerk of the Court Holcomb, therefore adjourned court a day later. Judge B. F. Dunwiddie, recently appointed by Governor Scofield, intended to be here to open court at 9 o'clock, but for some reason he has not yet received his commission and it is useless for him to come without it."

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL GOSSIP

OUR foot powder sells rapidly because it has true merit. People's Drug Co. EVANS & MILLS have been awarded the contract for lathing the Hayes block. A positive relief for prespiring, aching feet—our foot powder at 25c a box. People's Drug Co. LOT WANTED—I am in the market for a lot in the Spring Brook addition. Must be cheap. D. W. Watt. POSITIVELY four strong men will fill the positions needed in the Janesville base ball team for Friday's game at Athletic park. The following marriage licenses were issued today by County Clerk Starr: Frank J. Henneche and Florence N. Ransden, both of Beloit; B. W. Hampton of Chicago, and Henrietta A. Wright of Beloit. The base ball game Friday afternoon will be the first game for the nine men who will constitute the Janesville base ball team for 1899. Don't fail to see the game. We have cut loose from the old idea of displaying fresh fruit and vegetables at the front of our store and have placed them attractively inside the door. We believe the public will appreciate this move as the goods will be so much nicer as to make up for the slight trouble of going inside to look them over. The excessive heat, dust flies, insects, etc., do not tend to greatly improve fruit or vegetables. They are free from these despoilers in the way we keep them at present. Sanborn. ADKINS, McMASTERS and Brown arrive in Janesville tomorrow morning, and take up their residence for the summer. McMASTERS has recommended Allen, the Beloit college short stop, as a good man for the Janesville base ball team, and he will play in Friday's game against Oregon.

LOCAL DENTISTS WANT REST

Claim That They Are Entitled to Saturday Half-Holidays. Local tooth pullers have made up their minds to enjoy life. They feel that for several years past they have not been enjoying the pleasures they are entitled to. Beginning July 1, the dentists of Janesville will close their places of business every Saturday at 12 o'clock, not to again open them under any circumstances until the Monday morning following. This is in order to give the dentists and their families Saturday afternoon holidays through the warm season. In July it is the intention of the local dentists to hold a picnic, which will probably take place up the river.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-TWO FROM HERE. The Attraction Was the Annual A. O. U. W. State Picnic Which Was Held Today—Special Train Over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad. One hundred and fifty-two local residents spent the day in Portage attending the State Ancient Order of United Workmen's picnic. At 7 o'clock this morning the weather was unfavorable and at the time the train pulled out a light rain was falling. This kept many from attending who had planned on going. During the early hour of the morning the clouds cleared away and the day proved an ideal one. At 7 o'clock members of the local order met at East Side Odd Fellows hall and headed by the Imperial band marched to the Milwaukee road depot, where a special train was in waiting. At 7:30 o'clock the special departed. At Portage Grand Master Workman J. M. Thayer was present, and responded to the address of welcome. One of the features was a ball game.

LATE NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

RIOT IN CLEVELAND STREETS.

Eight Thousand Strike Sympathizers Destroy Much Property.

TRAIN CREWS ARE BEATEN.

Motorman, Attacked by Hundreds, Flies His Revolver and Seriously Wounds One Man—Trucks Blocked by Rocks and Switches Torn Up.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 21.—Many and serious were the assaults on non-union men and the property of the Big Consolidated Street Railway company in various parts of this city Tuesday. The most disastrous riot to property began at 7:45 o'clock and continued for two hours.

A crowd, which had been gradually gathering since early morning in the neighborhood of the Holmden avenue line car barns on Pearl street, reached 8,000 in size at 8 o'clock and made an assault on the barns from three sides.

The rioters destroyed the fence surrounding the yards and barns with battering rams, and then with sections of iron pipe, crowbars and huge stones began the work of demolishing the company's property. Everything in the barns was destroyed except some of the cars. All the wires and electric apparatus were rendered worthless; seven cars were damaged beyond repair, and ten others will have to be rebuilt.

The mob was seeking for thirty-five non-union men, who were quartered in the barns. The latter were armed by the division superintendent with ax handles and told to take care of themselves. They hid in the company's office, where they were successfully protected from assault by deputy sheriffs, who, with a revolver apiece, held the mob of 8,000 men in check until forty-five policemen came, fifty minutes later, to their aid.

During the day a conference of the committee of the city council, officials of the street railway company, and the labor leaders was in session, and the ultimatum of the strikers was presented to President Everett, who agreed to give an answer at 11 o'clock today.

Mobs attacked the crews on many cars, and in many instances the assaults were serious, and innocent passengers and by-standers were injured.

Seven street car switches were pulled up by the mob, hauled to the river and dumped in. One of these was a box switch on the Central viaduct.

CANADA PREVENTS AGREEMENT.

Modus Vivendi on Alaska Boundary Is Not Yet Signed.

New York, June 21.—A special to the Journal from Washington says:

"The Journal is authorized by the state department to state that a modus vivendi in the Alaskan boundary dispute has not been agreed upon.

"Some days ago officials of the state department ventured to say that a provisional line would be agreed upon. This belief was founded on representations made to the state department by Ambassador Choate to the effect that the British officials said an agreement would be reached and the modus would soon be signed.

"The agreement had not materialized up to the close of department hours today. Canada has put herself flatly in opposition to Great Britain."

Dutchmen Prepared for War.

Cape Town, June 21.—The activity of the war office local authorities has been suspended in the matter of contracts for certain military requisites on the ground that the regiments are now ready to leave Cape Town for Kimberley at short notice. An engine driver on the Cape railway declares that he has seen men, armed and mounted, engaged in drilling at Hout-Kraal, near Deonar and Pontfontein, not far from Kimberley. He was informed that they were Dutchmen, preparing to assist the Boers in the event of hostilities.

London, June 22.—The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "The Natal volunteers have been officially ordered to hold themselves in readiness for active service."

NEW PLANS FOR ARBITRATION.

Fresh Instructions Sent to Peace Conference Delegates.

Washington, June 21.—Instructions have been sent by telegraph to the American delegates to the peace conference at The Hague modifying those originally given to the delegates in regard to the arrangement of a general international arbitration tribunal.

While definite information as to the character of these new instructions cannot be obtained, it is supposed from what is said by state department officials that the United States will accept a compromise containing some of the features of the general arbitration schemes proposed by Russia and Great Britain.

The state department is receiving communications daily from the American commissioners at The Hague, and through these is kept fully informed of the progress of affairs there.

It is regarded as certain that the peace conference will adopt some plan of international arbitration.

The state department apparently has reason to believe that this plan will embody some of the suggestions of the United States, Russia and Great Britain.

"After birth of each child I grew weaker, and hearing so much of the good you had done, I wrote to you and have taken six bottles of Lydia E. WILD BIRD

Which Had Absolutely No Fear of Man.

A most extraordinary instance of the lameness of birds in unexplored forests is related by a writer in the National Geographic magazine, describing a tour of exploration to the headwaters of the Saskatchewan. As our horses were winding through a deep forest, a bird appeared which resembled a pine bullfinch, sitting from tree to tree and following us closely. Somewhat later it gave the most remarkable instance of tameness that I have ever seen. Having followed us for about two miles, it waited in a tree during the bustle and confusion of making camp, but in the afternoon, when all was quiet, some of our men were asleep, the bird became exceedingly familiar, walking on the ground near us and finally perching on our extended hands. It was soon evident that the object of our visitor was to catch mosquitoes, which were hovering in swarms around our heads. It pecked at a ring on my hand, at our needles, and in fact any metal article, but the climax was reached when by accident the bird saw its own image in a small looking-glass which lay on the ground. Then, with extended wings and open bill, it uttered cries of rage and pecked madly at the glass in which an enemy appeared. Among the solitudes of mountain forests, squirrels, finches and whistlers often show unusual composure in man, but this particular instance is remarkable, because the bird would alight on our persons even after it had been momentarily though gently detained several times as a prisoner in my hand.

Rubies of Great Price.

The value of rubies below the weight of 1 carat ranges from $10 to $40 per carat, while stones of greater weight than 4 carats are of such exceptional occurrence as to command fancy prices. When a perfect ruby of 5 carats is brought into the market ten times as much will be offered for it as for a diamond of the same weight. The supposed largest ruby known is one brought from China, which now forms a part of the Imperial crown jewels of Russia. The two most important rubies ever known in this country were brought here in 1875. One was a dark-colored stone, cushion shape, weighing 37 carats; the other a blunt stone, drop shape, of 47 1-6 carats. The smaller stone, it is affirmed, sold for about $50,000, while the larger one found a purchaser on the continent at $100,000.

Didn't Seem Possible.

"I don't understand the case of this young man who went through a fortune in three months," he said, looking up from his newspaper. "Why not?" she asked. "He wasn't married," he answered.—Spare Moments.
